

Boy Burglars Try to Crack Safes As They Saw It Done in the Movies

Fail Twice, but Third Attempt Yields $275 and Orgy of Candy, and More Movies Follow.

Motion pictures, showing the ease with which crackmen open safes, and flashily inspired them to seek an easy way to get money for buying ice cream and candy and seeing other movie shows. Detectives Denny, McCann and Grattano said they were told today by the two younger boys before they arranged Earl Elliott, sixteen, colored, No. 256 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, in the Adams Street Court on a burglary charge, George Georlinotas, thirteen, No. 290 Pacific Street, and Albert Hansen, twelve, No. 335 Bergen Street, Brooklyn, in the Children's Court.

Two revolvers were stolen early Easter morning from the office of Rues Bros., school contractors, No. 769 Atlantic Avenue, and the safe was unsuccessfully attacked with a sledge hammer. The burglars escaped through the skylight through which they had entered when frightened by policemen.

Elliott denied having anything to do with the burglary or with two others which the police say the other boys confessed.

On March 11, the detectives were told, the tinmith shop of T. D. Littridge, No. 451½ Atlantic Avenue, was entered, but the safe was too strong to be broken by amateurs.

The safe of Thomas Kingsley, No. 734 Atlantic Avenue, proved more tractable on Feb. 25, and after opening it the boys obtained $275, the detectives say they were told. A feast of candy and ice cream and an orgy of movies followed.

Two other boys, Stanley Austin and Wilson Carter, now in the New York City Reformatory, were named by Hansen and Georlinotas as members of the youthful gang of burglars, the detectives say. Austin and Carter were sent away after the Brooklyn Times office was broken into last February.

INTER-TRAIN PHONE MESSAGES POSSIBLE

Dining Car Steward, Radio Fan, Equipping Two Cars on Big Four, CINCINNATI, O., April 26 (Copyright).—Inter-train telephone communication while trains are in motion is a possibility. Fletcher H. Hiles, steward on a B & O Limited, running between Cincinnati and Cleveland, is developing the plan. Officials of the road are backing him and consider success assured. Hiles has a radio license. He is equipping two cars for experimental purposes.

Hiles is operating a temporary receiving set now on his car. With the train at top speed passengers can "listen in" on conversations as if in their own homes. Seats are at a premium when he tunes in. The apparatus is located on the top of the buffet, the batteries in cabinets underneath. An amplifying horn is used and the sounds are heard in the furthest corner of the car.

IDENTIFIES BODY OF DROWNED DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Frances Affleck, No. 458 West 17th Street, at the Morgue today.

Identified the body found in the Harlem River at Spuyten Duyvil last Sunday as that of her daughter, Grace A. Affleck, thirty-three. Miss Affleck had been employed as bookkeeper by the American Tobacco Company. According to Mrs. Affleck, her daughter had been ill and was despondent.

SAYS LAMPPOST & HOLT WON'T MAKE FURTHER CUT.

David Cook, American representative of the Lampost & Holt Steamship Lines, denied today the report that his line will make a reduction in passenger rates to South America to compete with the rates announced by the United States Shipping Board. "As far as we are concerned, there will be no more said by Lampost & Holt in regard to Mr. Lasker's action," said Mr. Cook. "As far as I know, there will be no cut made by us."

SENT TO HOSPITAL INSTEAD OF TO JAIL

Heroic Soldier Saved From Prison Through Conviction Due to War Service.

Two Deputy Sheriffs, half carried, half dragged Patrick J. Keenan, twenty-eight, of No. 219 West 66th Street, before Justice Finch I. the criminal branch of the Supreme Court today. Keenan is in the last stages of tuberculosis. He was arraigned for attempted burglary. Police records showed that Keenan had heretofore led a blameless life. He had gone to the war, taken part in four battles, was wounded twice, and passed, from which tuberculosis resulted.

Assistant District Attorney Donohue told Justice Finch that he did not think any good would be accomplished by sending Keenan to jail. He recommended that he be discharged on his own recognizance and sent to Bellevue Hospital. "That is the right spirit," said Justice Finch, who so ordered. Keenan was taken in charge of by several sympathetic persons, placed in a taxicab and taken to the hospital.

TWO DAYS' SLEEP CURES GIRL OF STAGE FEVER

Became Hysterical When Father Refused to Let Her Be Hypnotist's Subject.
After qualifying as a good subject for a hypnotist, Miss Dorothy Ford, sixteen-year-old daughter of Edward Ford of No. 528 Bloomfield Avenue, Hoboken, became so hysterical she had to be given a sleeping powder that caused two days' slumber.

She and a girl friend answered an advertisement of a hypnotist for subjects. The hypnotist couldn't do anything with the other girl, but Dorothy said he hypnotized her and hired her to go on the stage with him. When her father objected she became hysterical, and he called in the family doctor, who administered medicine that kept her asleep two days. She is now normal, unharmed, and the hypnotist can't be found.
